

RDA: How Do the New Cataloging Rules Affect Me?

WALE Conference
Oct. 29, 2013
Renette Davis

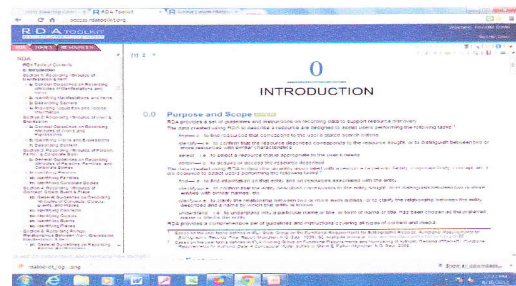

How many of you are working:

- In a Cataloging Department
- In another area of Technical Services, such as Acquisitions
- In Reference
- In Circulation

How much do you know?

- Creating RDA records
- Using RDA records
- Have seen RDA records
- Have heard about RDA but don't know very much
- What's RDA?

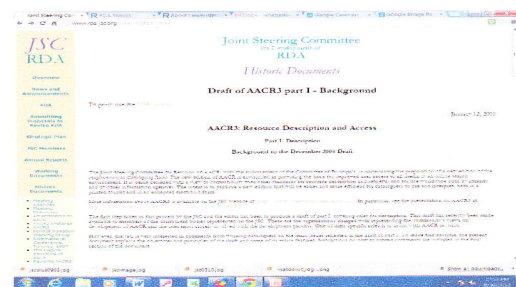

RDA Implemented March, 2013

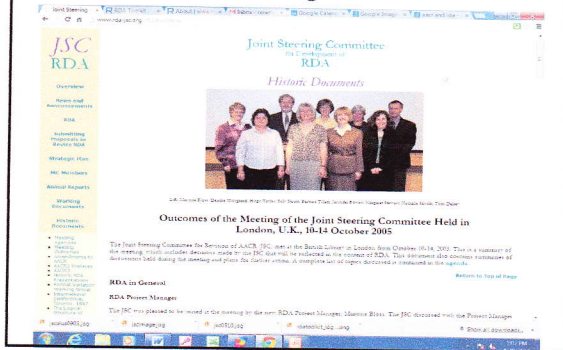

AACR2 implemented 1978

First Draft of AACR3 2005

AACR3 changed to RDA

Joint Steering Committee 2006

Joint Steering Committee 2007

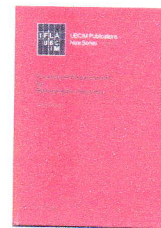

Joint Steering Committee 2008

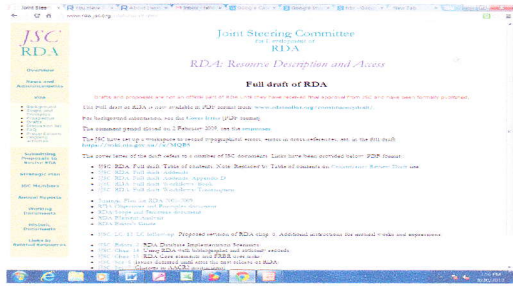

Why???

- AACR2 written in context of card catalog
- Rules increasingly complex but inadequate for new types of resources
- No theoretical framework to act as reference when dealing with new situation
- Not enough support for collocation
- Anglo-American centric

Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records

What next???

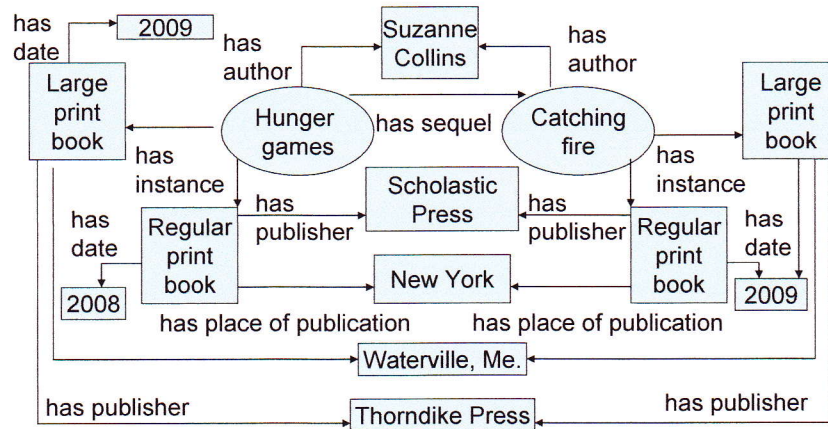

- Have been using MARC since 1970s
- No one outside of libraries can use our data
- Can't do Google search and discover local library has just what you're looking for
- Have to go to library website and search there to find library resources
