July 2021 Issue:
You Are Not Imagining It

Alki July Issue — Article Deadline Approaching

Submit your articles and milestones for the July issue of Alki! The Alki Editorial Committee wants to hear from all library types and from all library workers, including students, staff, and those new to the profession! Please find instructions here and send your article to alkieditor@wla.org by Tuesday, June 22.

While libraries have a unique mission, we also face the same challenges and successes that any workplace does. This issue, entitled "You Are Not Imagining It," invites reflections and contributions on experienced organizational culture, including vocational awe, imposter syndrome, and more. As always, we are happy to consider articles that are not related to the theme but are of interest to the WLA community.

$15 Million in ARPA Grants Available for Library Services

The Institute of Museum and Library Services has announced a new funding opportunity for museums, libraries, and Native American and Native Hawaiian communities. The $15 million federal investment will provide direct support to address community needs created or exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic and in assisting with recovery. Apply now.

The deadline for submitting applications is June 28, 2021, with award announcements anticipated October 2021.

OverDrive to Acquire Kanopy

OverDrive announced last week that it will acquire Kanopy, a video streaming service used in public and academic libraries. The acquisition will add Kanopy’s video catalog, which has approximately 30,000 films, to the OverDrive platform. Complete terms and a timeline of the acquisition have not yet been announced.

New School Library Endorsement Cohort Program Announced

Antioch University Seattle is offering a reduced tuition program for regional cohorts of teachers and uncertified teacher librarians to earn a School Library Endorsement. The state-accredited program is completely online. A no-cost, two-week online learning orientation helps new students navigate the online platform, develop research skills, practice useful tech tools, and meet colleagues. For more information visit the program webpage or contact Program Director Christie Kaaland.
Apply for the NASA@ My Library Program

Public and tribal libraries are invited to apply for NASA@ My Library, a STEAM education initiative that will increase and enhance STEAM learning opportunities for library patrons throughout the nation, including geographic areas and populations currently underrepresented in STEAM education.

Applications will be accepted through July 21. Sixty public and tribal libraries in the U.S. will be selected to become partners. Partners will receive training and resources to implement NASA events and programming, access to a university subject matter expert (SME) to support patron engagement, and a $1,600 programming stipend to purchase materials for NASA STEAM activities and/or support presentations by local NASA-funded SMEs. Learn more and apply!

The Learning Curve

Niche Academy
"Community Homelessness: What Can Libraries Do"

Join Julie Ann Winkelstein in this Niche Academy webinar on June 16 at 11 a.m. PT to learn about the numerous ways community members experience homelessness, basic statistics and facts about US homelessness, and insights into its impact on people’s lives, including daily trauma.

Winkelstein will offer suggestions for actions library staff can take, and provide specific examples of the various ways in which libraries are addressing the physical, emotional and practical needs of their unhoused community members. Register here.

ARSL TRAIN
"From Self-Care to Community Well-being through Design Thinking"

Join Brenda Hough and Betha Gutsche on June 17 at 11 a.m.- 1 p.m. PT for this TRAIN webinar. Compassion fatigue and librarian burnout are prevalent after a year of upheaval from the COVID pandemic. Attendees will learn about tapping into their larger communities to bolster individual well-being, using design thinking strategies. Register here. Cost is $20 for ARSL members and $35 for non-members.

Crisis Connections: "De-Escalation for Library Staff"

Washington State Library is pleased to announce a free, special series of trainings offered by Crisis Connections on de-escalation. Register here!

The session will be offered three times:

- Tuesday, June 22, 9 a.m.-12:15 p.m. (limit 20 attendees)
- Monday, June 28, 9 a.m.-12:15 p.m (limit 20 attendees)
- Wednesday, June 30, 9-11 a.m. (includes one hour of pre-work; limit 40 attendees)

In the training, attendees will learn practical tools to monitor their own temperature when situations are intensifying. They will learn both verbal and non-verbal techniques to ease volatile encounters. The training introduces ways to establish boundaries and control the environment, while still actively listening and understanding client needs.

RUSA: "Decolonizing the Catalog: Anti-Racist Description Practices"

The Reference and User Services Association (RUSA) will host a 90-minute webinar on July 7 from 10-11:30 a.m. PT exploring recent efforts to draw attention to and amend harmful language in library records related to the African American experience in the United States.

The webinar is open to all librarians and library staff members but will be of particular interest to those who work with or create catalog records and other forms of metadata. Learn more and register.
