WLA Scholarship Application Workshop

First Tuesdays: WLA Scholarship Application Workshop

Did you know that the Washington Library Association offers 7 scholarships each year for graduate, undergraduate, and continuing education studies? Are you interested in applying, but don't know where to start? The WLA Professional Development Committee invites librarians, MLIS students, teacher-librarians, and paraprofessionals to learn more about funding opportunities at our Scholarship Application Workshop on June 7 at 9 a.m. Register in advance. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the webinar.

You will learn tips and tricks for drafting your narrative, selecting references for recommendation letters, and submitting the application forms. You will also have the opportunity to meet current scholarship winners and learn more about the Committee's application scoring rubric.

This discussion session will provide an overview of the scholarship process, the benefits of being a recipient, and strategies to assist in building a successful application. Hear from previous scholarship recipients as they answer questions and share their experiences of the process and how the scholarship has benefited their studies. Committee members and scholarship winners can answer questions you have about the process.

Application open for the 2023 Conference Committee

Apply for the 2023 Conference Committee!

WLA is seeking volunteers for its 2023 Conference Committee! Whether you're new to WLA or a longtime volunteer, we would love for you to get involved!

The 2023 WLA Conference will take place in Wenatchee, WA from Thursday, March 30 through Saturday, April 1, 2023, and committee members will receive a discount on their registration to attend!

Committee members should:

- Participate in the meetings and activities of the committee.
- Have an interest in the work of the committee.
- Be a WLA Member

Please complete the application form by Wednesday, June 8, 2022.

The committee will meet once per month and as needed, with email communication in-between. Appointment on the committee will run July 11, 2022 through April 1, 2023.

If you have any questions, please reach out to the WLA Office by emailing info@wla.org or calling/texting (206) 823-1138.

Did you attend WLA2022?

Alki* Call for Papers: Imagine New Horizons!*

The Washington library community wants to hear from you! Share your voice by publishing in Alki: The Washington Library Association Journal. We welcome content from all library workers, students, supporters, volunteers, and trustees. We publish peer-reviewed articles, opinion pieces, creative writing, and art.

Conference season is upon us, and Alki is looking for submissions inspired by recent conference events, including WLA, PLA, ALA, ER&L, MLA, and others. If you attended or presented at a recent conference, we want to hear from you.

Consider the following questions and thoughts for inspiration:

- Share a project, initiative, idea, or research you presented at a recent conference.
- Explore ways presenters could collaborate to further their goals.
- Tell us what it's like to attend a conference for the first time or the 50th time. Do you have any tips and tricks to share about getting the most out of professional development?
- Write a reflection on what you've learned, what you would like to implement, and how to build support for new ideas at your library.
- Share your approach to professional development. How do you make a case to attend events, find funding, or create a community learning group at your institution?
- Dream of a better way. How can we make conferences more equitable, inclusive, and accessible?
- Get creative! Submit creative writing, photos, and art inspired by your conference presentation or attendance.

Alki is a journal by and for the Washington library community. We accept submissions that may not fit our theme but are still important to our community.

Email your submissions to alkieditor@wla.org by June 8. Submissions should be in a separate, email attachment (.doc, .docx, or Google Doc format) and include the following:

- Title
- Author name(s) and affiliation(s)
- Short, third-person bio and headshot of author(s)
- Text of article and citations using Chicago Manual of Style
- Images in .jpg or .png format with accompanying captions (please consider accessibility when writing your captions)
- Pull quotes or short selections of your article that you would like highlighted in larger print
- Any specific formatting requests

Ray Zill, the current Alki editor, is available to discuss ideas and expectations. Reach out by contacting her at alkieditor@wla.org. For inspiration, check out the past issues of Alki.

Survey: Diversity and Library Organizations

Library managers who assist in the hiring process for one or more positions within their library organization are invited to participate in a research study conducted by Jennifer Wright, student at the School of Education & Graduate Studies at Converse University in Spartanburg, SC. Please consider completing the 5-minute survey.

The purpose of this study is to learn more about the perspectives on diversity of managers who hire for library positions, and to learn about diversity initiatives at those libraries. Data collected from this study will be used for a published dissertation and may be used for conference presentations and journal articles.

If you have any questions or concerns about the research, you can contact Jennifer Wright at jjwright001@converse.edu or faculty supervisor Professor Roy Lee Givins at lee.givins@converse.edu.

ALA American Library Association

Fund Libraries

Tell Congress to invest in libraries. #FUNDLIBRARIES

Library advocates: it's time to come together to #FundLibraries. ALA has launched its FY23 Fund Libraries campaign to keep libraries across the country supported with robust federal funding!

Download this handy one-pager of Washington State's IMLS funding history and library facts, and send a quick message urging WA legislators to fund libraries in FY23.

Communities rely on library services supported by federal funds — we need library advocates like you to help show Congress the impact this support has!

American Library Association

Washington Library Funding Facts

Washington's libraries are institutions with programs and resources to help every community member succeed. Our libraries are also digital anchors — connecting individuals to computers and broadband, technology classes and expert, trusted staff.

The Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) is the only federal program exclusively for libraries, administered by the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS). Each state determines how best to use these grants based on local, not federal, priorities.

QUICK STATE FACTS

- 350 Public Libraries
- 74,677 Children and Young Adult Programs Offered
- 6,743 Public Access Internet Computers
- 86,799,553 Annual Circulation

LSTA Funding History in Washington

Fiscal Year	Funding (in millions)
FY 2017	$3.35
FY 2018	$3.50
FY 2019	$3.60
FY 2020	$3.70
FY 2021	$3.75

(Note: FY 2022 funding TBD) Figure 1: in millions. Source: IMLS

LSTA funds are at work in libraries to:

- Support jobseekers and the local economy through career planning programs.
- Improve the health literacy of the community, including with COVID-19.
- Offer resources and support for children, families, the elderly, veterans, and those facing homelessness.
- Provide databases for scholarly research and support academic resource sharing.
- Help bridge the homework gap and digital divide.
- Advance small businesses by building targeted resources, offering classes and expertise, and boosting entrepreneurship.

NNLM Region 5 Announces New Funding Opportunities

The Network of the National Library of Medicine \(NNLM\) Region 5 is pleased to announce new funding opportunities for Data Engagement Awards and Outreach & Engagement Awards! Applications submitted by 5:00 p.m. PT, June 28 will receive first consideration.

These awards are for those in Region 5 which includes Alaska, California, Hawaii, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, and the U.S. Territories and Freely Associated States in the Pacific.

- At minimum, three Data Engagement Awards for up to $25,000 each will be funded to support engagement in data literacy, data science or data management, such as through projects that support biomedical and research data services; help train the healthcare, library or educator workforce to access, understand, and use data; or create diverse community connections to further educate a wide audience on data literacy and management best practices.
- Additionally, at least three Outreach & Engagement Awards for up to $25,000 each will be funded to improve health literacy and increase health equity through engagement and training for health information, digital literacy skills, and access to trusted health information in under-resourced communities. The award also supports the purchase of technology needed to advance connectivity.

Questions? Please reach out to Nancy Shin, NNLM Region 5 Outreach and Data Coordinator at: nkshin1@uw.edu or Michele Spatz, NNLM Region 5 Outreach and Engagement Coordinator at: mspatz@uw.edu.

The Learning Curve

ACRL Live Webcast: "Cognitive Load and Instructional Design"

The next ACRL Core Webinar "Cognitive Load and Instructional Design" takes place June 9 from 11 a.m.-12 p.m. PT. Register in advance! Cost is $50 for ACRL members, $71 for ALA members, and $79 for non-members.

In this interactive webinar Jason Puckett, Online Learning Librarian and Associate Professor (Georgia State University Library) will demonstrate easy, non-technical best practices in instructional design that will help your information literacy teaching in any medium.

Attendees of the webinar will learn how to help their students learn more efficiently by reducing the cognitive load — the amount of mental effort — taken up by extraneous information and poor design. Academic instruction librarians will find the webinar most useful, but any teaching librarians will be able to use the content and ideas.

If you have a question or need to make arrangements for special assistance or additional accessibility, contact Mia Blixt-Shehan at mblixtshehan@ala.org.

OrRS: "Let's Ask More Questions!: Virtual Reference as a Conversation"

The Oregon Reference Summit (OrRS) will host a free online session "Let's Ask More Questions!: Virtual Reference as a Conversation" on June 10 from 1-2 p.m. PT, as part of its series of bi-monthly programs. Register in advance!

Presenter Andrea Marshall (Oregon State University) will discuss ways for librarians to ask their communities crucial questions during various types of online chat reference interviews that foster collaboration and creative thinking.

If you have any questions, please contact Sandra Dixon or Lori Moore.

Fast Forward Libraries: "Continuous Improvement Trumps Strategy: How to Become a Learning Organization"

Just having a strategic plan doesn't guarantee success! Many strategic plans are never ending "to do" lists that don't articulate progress or impact. Shift your library by developing a meaningful, aspirational plan supported by learning-focused implementation and management tools in this free webinar on June 21 at 10 a.m. PT. Register in advance.

Presenters Amanda Standerfer (Fast Forward Libraries) and Gerry Vogel (Avon Lake Public Library) will discuss how you can ground your library's plan in systems thinking and learning organization practices. Creating a living plan that's adaptive and responsive from the inside out will help your library and community learn and grow together!

Originally presented at the Public Library Association Conference, this webinar includes practical "how to" examples for your library. If you have any questions, please contact amanda@standerferconsulting.com.

Have news to share? Please send it to the WLA office at newsletter@wla.org by Monday to be included in that week's digest.
