WLA 2025 Spring Fundraiser

Online Silent Auction | May 6-31

We are excited to announce the WLA Silent Auction, our 2025 Spring Fundraiser event, will be returning for its second year! The online auction will be open May 6-31 and offers everyone the chance to participate in bidding on specially curated items.

All members and partners are welcome to solicit or make donations! Items that can be sent digitally or are easily mailed are preferable, but we also welcome highly desirable items that are "worth the trip," like the card catalog donated this year by Primary Source. Restaurant, lodging, bookstore, and other retail gift certificates are always popular, and businesses are often delighted to show this support for WA libraries. You may view item ideas in our document here! 100 percent of auction proceeds will help fund WLA's programs and services, and as a 501(c)3 non-profit, all donations are tax deductible!

If you, your library, or anyone in your network have unique items or experiences to donate, please fill out our donation form. Thank you for your support in making this annual event a success!

Get a sneak peek at the items that will be available! Keep an eye on our auction website as more items will be added! Starting bid and items subject to change.

Spring Issue of Alki, "Rooted," Out Now!

In this issue, the word, "rooted," is shown in its many meanings. Writings about the history of libraries, the history that led to the development of the modern-day audiobook, and the U.S. Postal Service's history in a community, demonstrate important roots. Articles and field notes on roaming reference and programs geared toward first-generation students and teens offer insight into the important underlying services that library workers provide patrons. Others write about foundational programs and policies that allow libraries to grow in positive, respectful, and, sometimes, necessarily cautious ways. What underlies all of this is the essential care that each contributor brings to their writing and their work in library spaces.

Read the Spring Issue of *Alki* Here!

Look for information about the summer issue of Alki in next week's WLA Wednesday. This issue will focus on work and ideas that come out of the annual conference and is themed "Building Bridges."

Alki* Call for Papers: Summer Issue - *Building Bridges

Did you participate in the WLA Conference, Building Bridges & Connecting Communities? The summer issue of Alki will focus on work and ideas that come out of the annual conference. If you presented, moderated, held a workshop, did a pop-up or exhibit, or anything else related to the conference, this is an opportunity to give a more permanent form to your work by having it published. Maybe you didn't present, but you attended? We also hope the conference itself inspired commentary or maybe an unexpected article.

Possible topics might include:

- Reflections on a conference workshop or program
- A field note about a book award—the process, the candidates, and the winners
- An article encapsulating a presentation
- Art submissions of your exhibit or table with a brief description
- Milestones—program launches, space updates, award winners
- A field note reflecting on your conference experience

Sign up for your spot today or get help working through a potential article concept by emailing your name and the topic of your proposed piece to Editor-in-Chief, Traci Timmons, at alkieditor@wla.org. General submission guidelines can be found here. The deadline for completed work is June 7.

Facing the Change: What the Loss of Federal Funding Means for Washington's Libraries

May 6 | 9:00am

Join us for a vital session introducing the staff of the Washington State Library and exploring the significant changes ahead following the potential permanent loss of $3.9 million in annual federal funding. This funding has supported essential statewide services—including shared eBook collections, research databases, training, rural broadband support, and institutional libraries—which will now face severe reductions or elimination.

We'll share what we know about the evolving landscape, highlight the work of our team members, and offer space for questions. While many details are still unfolding, we are committed to transparency and collaboration as we navigate this transition together.

Survey: Instructional Programming for Adults in Public Libraries

Laura Saunders, Professor at the Simmons University School of Library and Information Science and Don Simmons Jr, Associate Professor at Simmons University School of Library and Information Science invite you to take a survey that they are conducting on instructional programming for adults in public libraries.

They are interested in learning about the extent and types of instructional programs offered to adults through public libraries in the United States, as well as the factors that might enable or hinder such programming. The study received approval from the Simmons University Institutional Review Board (IRB 25-233).

Please answer as many of the following questions as you wish based on your own experience. Your participation is voluntary. You may decline to participate or discontinue your participation at any time. If there are any questions you do not feel comfortable answering, you may skip them. Your decision to participate, not participate, or to withdraw at any time from this study will in no way affect your standing with your library.

The survey should take you about 20 minutes to complete. All of your responses will be recorded anonymously. You can access the survey using this link \(https://simmons.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_5vwIP4AVjd3C2we\)

ALA: Support IMLS by Sharing Your Library Story with Congress

Since ALA announced the Show Up For Our Libraries campaign after the Inauguration, we've seen a barrage of attacks on a wide array of federal agencies, programs, and policies. Unfortunately, in the year ahead, we expect continued efforts to slash the federal budget. ALA, like many of you, is concerned about the broad-reaching effects of these efforts and other newly implemented policies and decisions.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services is the only source of federal funding dedicated to libraries. Every member of Congress needs to know why libraries are not just a "nice to have," but a necessity. Tell Congress your library story:

Authors Against Book Bans is Here for Washington

A new state law prohibits schools from banning books used in curriculums solely because they were written by or about members of marginalized groups. Even so, book challenges continue to be a reality and dealing with one can be stressful. Authors Against Book Bans (AABB) in Washington State is dedicated to protecting the intellectual freedom to read and the availability of diverse voices on library shelves.

Comprised of a coalition of writers, illustrators, anthology editors and contributors, AABB offers support to librarians, teachers, and others involved in book challenges. Some of the ways members can help include:

- Writing emails and letters, sending recorded videos, and/or making phone calls to curriculum committees, school boards, and other decision-makers
- Sharing personal experiences demonstrating the importance of diverse books
- Appearing before public meetings in support of diverse books
- Sending personal messages of support (e.g., email or postcards) to individuals embroiled in challenges

For support or more information find AABB at authorsagainbookbans.com.
