Spring Issue of Alki, "Rooted," Out Now!

In this issue, the word, "rooted," is shown in its many meanings. Writings about the history of libraries, the history that led to the development of the modern-day audiobook, and the U.S. Postal Service's history in a community, demonstrate important roots. Articles and field notes on roaming reference and programs geared toward first-generation students and teens offer insight into the important underlying services that library workers provide patrons. Others write about foundational programs and policies that allow libraries to grow in positive, respectful, and, sometimes, necessarily cautious ways. What underlies all of this is the essential care that each contributor brings to their writing and their work in library spaces.

Look for information about the summer issue of Alki in next week's WLA Wednesday. This issue will focus on work and ideas that come out of the annual conference and is themed "Building Bridges."

Alki* Call for Papers: Summer Issue - *Building Bridges

Did you participate in the WLA Conference, Building Bridges & Connecting Communities? The summer issue of Alki will focus on work and ideas that come out of the annual conference. If you are presenting, moderating, holding a workshop, doing a pop-up or exhibit, or anything else related to the conference, this is an opportunity to give a more permanent form to your work by having it published. We also hope the conference itself might inspire commentary or an unexpected article. Possible topics might include:

- Reflections on a conference workshop or program
- A field note about a book award—the process, the candidates, and the winners
- An article encapsulating a presentation
- Art submissions of your exhibit or table with a brief description
- Milestones—program launches, space updates, award winners
- A field note reflecting on your conference experience

If you feel ready, sign up for your spot today or get help working through a potential article concept by emailing your name and a working title of your proposed piece to alkieditor@wla.org. ### Applying Strategic Foresight toward Future-Ready Libraries, Archives, and Museums in Washington State

In this time of rapid change, we must explore and chart new pathways toward future success, and foster mindsets and skills to help us discover untapped possibilities. Strategic foresight is a framework to help us create multiple future scenarios, envision outcomes and evaluate current and pending strategies to support decision making and action in the present against a suite of possible futures.

Building on four years of the IMLS-supported Transformation for Libraries: The Futures School, the Connecticut State Library and partner TFSX (formerly Kedge: The Futures School) are now training organizational cohorts—including library systems, archives, museums, associations, and partner networks—across the United States. The initiative is taking a systems perspective, to integrate strategic foresight into operations and infuse futures thinking into institutional capacity, cultural shifts, technological innovation, model processes, and succession planning. Each cohort member works with a team of their colleagues to apply foresight tools to lead their organization to the future.

Apply Now!

The June 3-5 cohort is eligible only to individuals working in a library, archive, museum or LAM-related organization within Washington State. When completing the application form, be sure to select the Washington State cohort. Applications are due April 29.

ALA: Support IMLS by Sharing Your Library Story with Congress

Since ALA announced the Show Up For Our Libraries campaign after the Inauguration, we've seen a barrage of attacks on a wide array of federal agencies, programs, and policies. Unfortunately, in the year ahead, we expect continued efforts to slash the federal budget. ALA, like many of you, is concerned about the broad-reaching effects of these efforts and other newly implemented policies and decisions.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services is the only source of federal funding dedicated to libraries. Every member of Congress needs to know why libraries are not just a "nice to have," but a necessity. Tell Congress your library story:

Authors Against Book Bans is Here for Washington

A new state law prohibits schools from banning books used in curriculums solely because they were written by or about members of marginalized groups. Even so, book challenges continue to be a reality and dealing with one can be stressful. Authors Against Book Bans (AABB) in Washington State is dedicated to protecting the intellectual freedom to read and the availability of diverse voices on library shelves.

Comprised of a coalition of writers, illustrators, anthology editors and contributors, AABB offers support to librarians, teachers, and others involved in book challenges. Some of the ways members can help include:

- Writing emails and letters, sending recorded videos, and/or making phone calls to curriculum committees, school boards, and other decision-makers
- Sharing personal experiences demonstrating the importance of diverse books
- Appearing before public meetings in support of diverse books
- Sending personal messages of support (e.g., email or postcards) to individuals embroiled in challenges

For support or more information find AABB at authorsagainstabookbans.com. Be sure to look for the AABB exhibitors booth at the WLA Conference in April!
